Entertainments

MR. AND MRS. MCCORMACK

HONOR NEPHEW AND BRIDE.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. McCormack will entertain with a theater party on Wednesday evening at the Lyric to enjoy the Pavley-Oukrainsky ballet and Russian symphony orchestra, the specialty compliments of guests being Mr. Robert Emmett McCormack, of Albany, Ga., and his lovely young bride.

The marriage of Miss Annie Louise Keller, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. J. J. Keller, of Little Rock, to Mr. Robert Emmett McCormack, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McCormack, of Birmingham, was solemnized at the cathedral in Little Rock. The nuptial mass was read by the bride's brother, the Rev. Dr. J. J. Morris, who holds the chair of philosophy in the Little Rock university, and Monsignor Tobin, and the marriage was solemnized by Bishop John R. Morris, of the Arkansas diocese.

The bride, whose father is a well-known musician, is herself a gifted vocalist. After having been heard in concert in Carnegie hall the past season she was offered an engagement with the Metropolitan opera company. She possesses both beauty and charm and is unusually popular.

Mr. McCormack is a member of one of the best-known families of Tennessee and is a young business man of exceptional ability.

MRS. GALLOWAY ENTERTAINS

IN HONOR OF MRS. PARKER.

Mrs. Robert Galloway has planned a delightful affair for Wednesday evening, when she will entertain in honor of Mrs. Georgia Lee Parker, who has just been welcomed home after an absence of many months.

Complimentary to Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Galloway has planned a box party at the Lyric theater to enjoy the artistic presentation of the Pavley-Oukrainsky ballet and Russian symphony orchestra under the auspices of the Beethoven club. Later a number of other friends of Mrs. Galloway will join the members of her box party in her home, Paisley Hall, on Overton Park avenue where a delicious supper menu will be served.

SOCIETY WILL ATTEND

ARTISTIC RUSSIAN BALLET.

It seems particularly fitting that one of the first and most artistic offerings of the musical and theatrical season should be presented under the auspices of the Beethoven club, members of which have for years been the leaders in Memphis musical circles and through the excellence of their artist concert.

have raised the musical standard of the Memphis and surrounding communities. Though not in the regular artist course offered by the club, the Pavley-Oukrainsky ballet and Russian symphony orchestra, which will appear on Wednesday evening at the Lyric theater, is sponsored by the Beethoven club, members of which will be numbered in the fashionable gathering present.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Hill, the latter the president of the Beethoven club, will be among the occupants of the box and many friends have been planned for the evening. Members of the Renaissance Music circle, of which Mrs. Caruthers Ewing is president, will also be represented; Mrs. R. L. Brown, former president of the Renaissance Music circle, with her daughter, Mrs. George Miles, and Mrs. G. T. Fitzhugh, a prominent member of the circle, who was the hostess for the meeting on Wednesday, with Capt. Fitzhugh, being among those in the boxes, as well as other prominent in social and musical circles.

An autumnal scheme of decoration will be carried out under the direction of the members of Calvary Church circle, with Mrs. Peter Grant and Mrs. J. P. Norflett, as chairmen. While the delicious refreshments will be provided for by the members of the Woman's auxiliary, the Ladies Aid society and Calvary Church circle. The refreshment tables will be charmingly presided over by Misses R. H. Vance, John Maury, Joseph Ogilvie, W. T. Miller and R. E. McCall. Mrs. J. F. Hill, Mrs. John McCleary and Mrs. John Shortridge.

The guests of the evening will be received by the members of the treasury and their wives and the officers of the various organizations of the church.

Honor Rector and Family.

Elaborate plans are being made for the congregational reception which will be given on Thursday evening in the parish house of Calvary church as a welcome to the new rector, the Rev. C. F. Bisselard, and his family.

Weddings

Mitchell-Pierson.

Mr. Brooke B. Pierson, son of the Merchants and Farmers bank of Crenshaw, Miss. and Miss Virginia Esther Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mitchell, of Crenshaw, Miss., were united in marriage at the home of the bride on Thursday evening, Oct. 14, at 8 o'clock in the presence of a few very intimate relatives and friends, the Rev. J. M. Quinn, pastor of the Crenshaw Methodist church, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierson are at home to their friends in Crenshaw.

Dwyer-Shafer.

A marriage of much interest to their many friends was that of Miss Catherine Dwyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dwyer, to Mr. Edward A. Shafer, which was solemnized on Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Brigid's church, the Rev. Father Whitfield officiating.

The church sanctuary was decorated with cut flowers, palms and ferns. The bride wore a stylish suit of midnight blue duvet de laine with hat and accessories in harmony and a corsage bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

Miss Margaret Dwyer was her sister's maid of honor and was also Levi Strauss.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season will be that of Miss Evelyn Levi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levi, and Mr. Maurice Strauss, which will take place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, 1233 Carr avenue, Rabbi Einshreiber officiating.

A pretty corsage motif in a green and white will be carried out in the roses and carnations arranged in tall wicker baskets with a large wedding veil of white tulle will form a canopy under which the young couple will stand during the ceremony.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a blue tulle gown, hand embroidered in black, black velvet hat and a corsage bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

Miss Evelyn Levi, wearing a frock of pink tulle and carrying an arm bouquet of Russell roses, will be her sister's maid of honor.

The bride's mother will be her matron of honor and will be dressed in black beaded charmeuse, with which she will wear a corsage bouquet of orchids and roses.

Mr. Carl Strauss will serve as his brother's best man.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony, and a delicious menu will be served. The bride's table will be handsomely draped in lace over satin, having as a centerpiece an artistic bride's cake containing all of the popular favors which are supposed to foretell the fate of the winner.

Mr. and Mrs. Strauss will leave for a Southern tour and after Nov. 1 will be at home at 1331 Carr avenue.

Fleming-Anderson.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the home of the bride on Overton park avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Alice Fleming became the bride of Dr. Twatt H. Anderson, the Rev. DuM. Devall, dean of St. Mary's cathedral, officiating in the presence of only the immediate relatives.

The bride wore a handsome suit of brown duvetin with fur trimming, with hat and other accessories. In harmony. Her corsage bouquet was of bride roses and valley lilies.

Dr. and Mrs. Anderson left for New Orleans and other Southern points, and on their return will be at home at 1778 Overton Park avenue.

Brittingham-Wilder.

The marriage of Miss Ann Elizabeth Brittingham, daughter of Mr. Thomas Brittingham, to Mr. William A. Wilder, was solemnized on Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, the Rev. Monsignor Murphy officiating.

The bride was gowned in blue duvetin with a picture hat to match and other accessories in harmony. She carried an arm bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

Mr. James Gilliam was best man. After Nov. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Wilder will be at home at 937 South Wellington street.

CLUBDOM

FIRST MEMBERSHIP MEETING

OF 19th CENTURY CLUB.

There was a very large attendance at the first regular membership meeting of the Nineteenth Century club, over which Mrs. E. G. Willingham presided on Wednesday morning. The meeting began at 10 o'clock and the business matters and reports were rapidly disposed of, the members being able to leave for other engagements before the noon hour.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. Willingham spoke of the wonderful program, which has been arranged for the year and urged the members to show their interest by attending the classes and taking part in the work of the departments. She also urged the individual members to take up some of the club bonds, payment on which is always made by the club at the proper time, making them a good investment for those who purchase them.

She announced the plan to have the club open for the hearing of if it returns to the presidential election on Nov. 2, when the members and their escorts will gather informally, light refreshments being served during the evening. Announcement was also made that the members of the hospitality committee had selected Nov. 5, as the date for the annual celebration celebration of President's day, which will this year take the form of a reception from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Announcement was also made that so new members had come into the club since June.

A feature of special importance at the meeting was the election of those who will this year enjoy the membership, which have been given in memory of late club members. Those so fortunate as to be the recipients of this favor, are Mrs. Marie Greenwood, Miss Mary Rose Edgington, Mrs. Laura Noblett, Mrs. Annie Stephenson Morgan, Miss Virginia Schlosser and Mrs. A. A. Weather's. Complimentary memberships were also given to representatives of the three Memphis papers and also to representatives of the United States and Institute libraries.

Following this the meeting was broken up, to the chairman, each of whom made a brief report of her plan for the season.

Mrs. Joseph Carey announced that her committee would play Santa Claus in connection with the month-end settlement work. Mrs. Irlly Bennett announced her program for the department of health, specially commencing the department upon having secured the cooperation of Mr. William H. Newman as physical director; Mrs. J. B. Kelley announced that plans for the large swimming pool were under way and that the pool would be ready in the spring; Mrs. W. H. Barker announced that the library department expected to entertain several celebrities during the season and that an encyclopedia, valued at $130, had been presented to the department. Mrs. H. E. Turner announced that her memory classes would begin very soon as will also the class in religious fundamentals under the direction of Mrs. James H. Watson, who will have the cooperation of the local clergy. Mrs. Douglas Darnell announced that her department of philanthropy had chosen as its motto, "To Get Ahead Use a Head." Mrs. C. C. Bacon reported that the gnan-
